

BE TOUGHER.

CHOOSE FAST-ACTING, LONG-LASTING RESIDUAL CONTROL.

When it comes to insect pests in your fields, you've got to be tough out there. So why would you use Besiege[®] insecticide? New Elevest[™] insect control powered by Rynaxypyr[®] active from FMC combines the optimized active ingredient ratio of Rynaxypyr (Group 28) with the fast knockdown of the superior pyrethroid, bifenthrin (Group 3A).

	ELEVEST INSECT CONTROL	BESIEGE INSECTICIDE
MOAs	Group 3A + 28	Group 3A + 28
Active Ingredients	Chlorantraniliprole, Bifenthrin	Chlorantraniliprole, Lambda-cyhalothrin
Lbs. ai/gal	1.33 lbs. of bifenthrin and 0.89 lb. of chlorantraniliprole per gallon	0.835 lb of chlorantraniliprole and 0.417 lb of lambda-cyhalothrin per gallon
Rainfastness	Rainfast when application is allowed to dry	Rainfast upon drying

With the labeled rate of Besiege insecticide, you get sublethal rates of lambda-cyhalothrin to control key soybean pests like stink bugs. That's not tough. Labeled rates of Elevest insect control deliver the maximum and more effective rate of bifenthrin to control stink bugs, grasshoppers and other yield-robbing pests.

“I think what makes Elevest™ insect control stand out compared to Besiege® is the bifenthrin component in it. Bifenthrin is better on the plant bugs and stink bugs than the lambda-cyhalothrin in Besiege.”

— NORTH CAROLINA RETAILER

“With Besiege insecticide, I had to spike the pyrethroid and would continue to add more because I didn't believe the rate was right. I like Elevest insect control because it has bifenthrin in it, which performs better on stink bugs.”

— MISSISSIPPI RETAILER

“With Elevest insect control, you don't have to mix two products together. Convenience means a lot in this business, and this is one convenient choice. Bottom line: It's convenient, it works and it's priced competitively.”

— VIRGINIA RETAILER
