

2020-2021 Northern Plains (ND, MT) Fall Burndown Herbicide Assurance

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Whether you need strong burndown of winter annuals, convenient and rotation-flexible applications or long-lasting residual protection until spring, FMC has multiple products to accomplish your burndown and weed control needs with the assurance that FMC stands behind their products' performance in your fields.

Three Qualifying Programs:

When using a burndown application following the FMC recommendations below at the minimum specified rates, growers are eligible for an assurance payment toward the purchase of retreatment materials if they do not maintain commercially acceptable 90% control of labeled weeds* versus an untreated check.

2020-2021 Northern Plains (ND, MT) Fall Burndown Herbicide Assurance

* The addition of metribuzin (0.25 lb. ai/A) can improve residual activity and overall control and should be considered where it can fit in a specific crop rotation. Please follow all label instructions for partner herbicides.

APPLICATION GUIDELINES

- Apply in the fall to actively growing weeds free from stress from drought, freeze damage, etc.
- Include a surfactant – NIS, COC, or MSO – to all treatments for maximum activity.
- Best results if applied after soil temps reach 55 F and falling for increased residual performance.
- Do not apply to frozen or snow-covered soils.
- Check with product labels before use for weeds controlled, geographic, pH, soil texture and rotational crop restrictions.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

- For an accurate comparison of control to occur, a representative check strip in each field is needed for comparison of control levels.
- Products must be applied according to label use directions.

Program Period:	September 15, 2020 – June 1, 2021
Program Geography:	ND and MT
